What does family friendly work life mean?

Mothers share thoughts about family life and work in our network, often in the same conversation. We advocate for a more family-friendly work life and also walk the talk.

The next opportunity to connect with mothers and learn more about the topic is on May 15th, as we join our forces with University of Helsinki for Alumni Day.

Crab your kids and join our breakfast event in Think Corner! Our inspiring speakers Chelsea Henry, Annica Moore, Olivia Kuusinen and Jenny Söderman will share insights about career courage and family friendly practises in work life.

Discuss the themes with speakers and other mothers in Learning Cafe style discussions - or listen to a Livestream from the university between 9.00-10.00.

Welcome to the breakfast session of family-friendly working life!

Empower yourself and move towards your goals

You still have time to sign up for our webinar about putting your manifestations into action. Our speaker Afrah Al Bayaty is a Manifestation coach specialized in identity work with topics of wealth, health, and relationships.

On May 25th, you will discover the tools that reside within you and learn to steer the wheel towards the direction of your goals.

You will discover “the how” behind bringing your manifestations into reality with the right identity, instead of just mere affirming.

You will also get to explore powerful mind and body techniques that help you to reprogram and tap into your ideal identity. Simply explained and easy to implement. Join us for a relaxed and inspiring evening!
